

Personalized Description and Success Strategies

- Comparison of Single PPS/RBA

Sample Report

Saturday, March 20, 2010

This report is provided by:

Transpective Diagnostic Tools

Bob Elliott

136 Piscassic Road

Newfields, NH 03856

603-772-6310

belliot@transpective.com

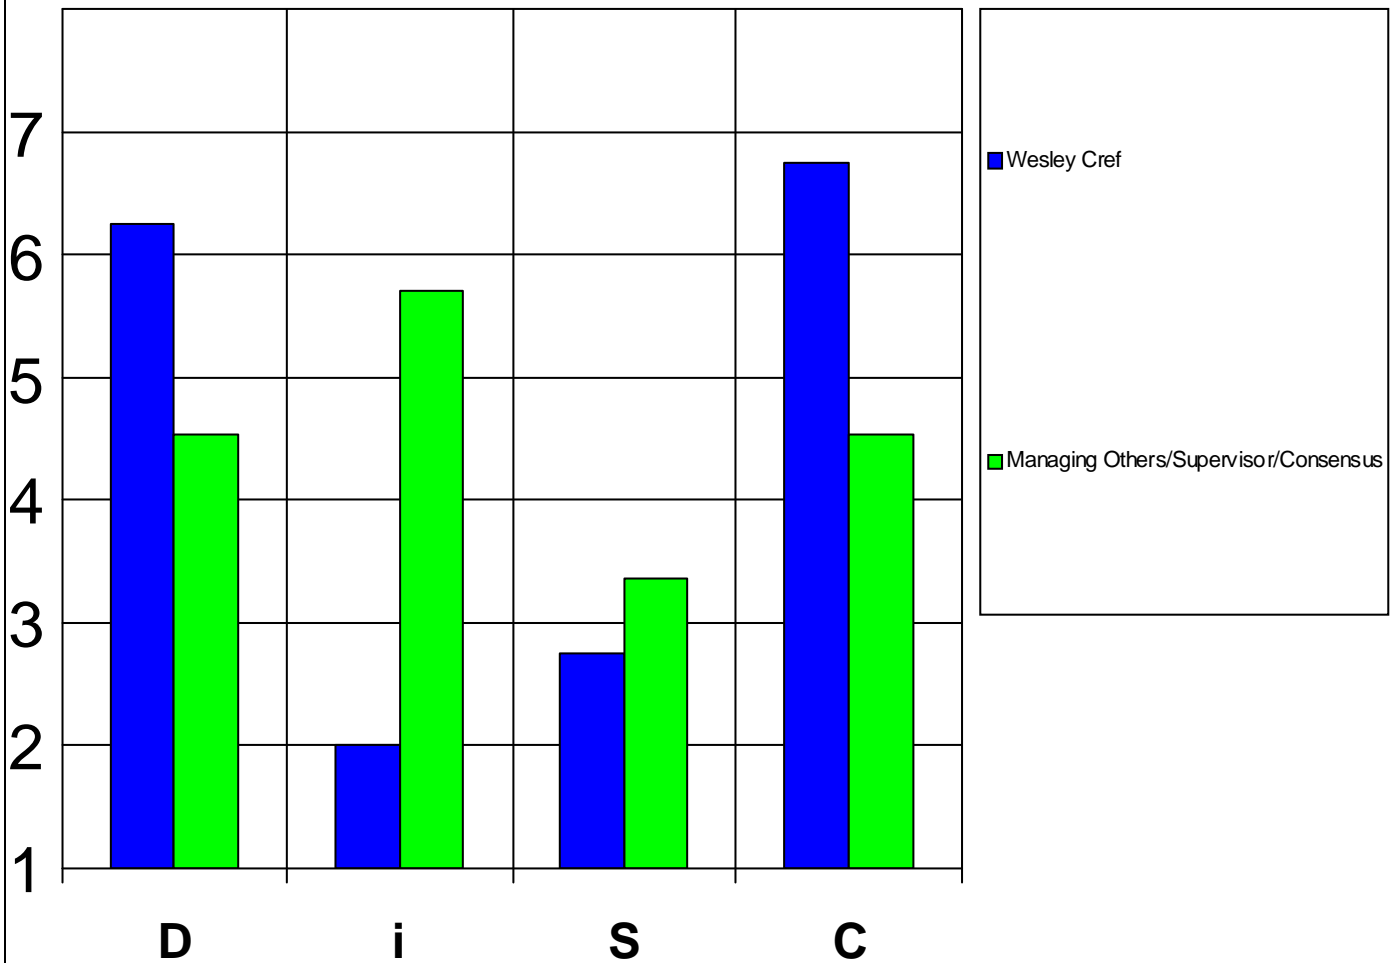

www.transpective.com

Personal Profile System[®] Graph

Single PPS/RBA Comparison

These graphs display the intensity levels for the role of Managing Others as compared to Wesley's Personal Profile. The Comparison Analysis on the following pages lists the behaviors that show a "good fit," "stretch" or "redirect" potential. Behaviors that are listed as a "good fit" are those behaviors in which the role requires a similar level of behavior as seems to be natural for Wesley. Behaviors listed as "stretch" are those behaviors that the role requires more of than seems to be natural for him. The behaviors listed as "redirect" are those that the role requires less of than seems to be natural for him. The listed behaviors describe potential fit rather than actual observed behavior. The Performance Coaching Questions may be helpful in discovering Wesley's actual experience in matching his behavior to the role requirements.

Comparison Analysis

Name: Wesley Cref

Completed by: Self

Date: 1/19/2004

Environmental Focus: Work

Classical Pattern: Creative

Role: Managing Others

Position: Supervisor

Department: Order Processing

Organization: United Widget, Inc.

Source: Consensus

Date: 8/24/2004

GOOD FIT Behaviors:

- Responding to problems with study and cooperation
- Assuming responsibility to follow-through on details
- Considering the views of those who show disagreement
- Developing a workable, repeatable routine
- Maintaining methods proven effective in the past
- Changing through careful and orderly planning process
- Following a methodical way of doing things
- Cooperating with others to complete tasks

STRETCH Behaviors:

- Verbalizing the thoughts and feelings of others
- Releasing tension in the group by interacting verbally
- Resolving conflict by initiating and facilitating discussion
- Verbally encouraging others in their personal efforts
- Influencing people through optimistic communication
- Influencing or inspiring others verbally
- Using personal charm and enthusiasm
- Facilitating interaction between people

Comparison Analysis

Name: Wesley Cref

Completed by: Self

Date: 1/19/2004

Environmental Focus: Work

Classical Pattern: Creative

Role: Managing Others

Position: Supervisor

Department: Order Processing

Organization: United Widget, Inc.

Source: Consensus

Date: 8/24/2004

REDIRECT Behaviors:

- Taking risks on untested ideas
- Delegating responsibility to others for follow-up actions
- Moving forcefully, even if some people are offended
- Demanding immediate results
- Taking higher risks based on potential results
- Responding quickly to problems
- Using power and authority to accomplish results
- Directing the efforts of others
- Analyzing many factors when making decisions
- Containing oneself when impatient or anxious
- Remaining neutral when conflict first arises
- Carefully weighing alternative methods, actions
- Listening with reservation to the opinions of others
- Checking accuracy of work, especially their own
- Carefully following key procedures and processes
- Demonstrating self-discipline by working alone

Role Behavior™ Comparison Grid

Single PPS/RBA Comparison

◆ Wesley Cref

○ Managing Others/Supervisor/Consensus

		L	ML	M	MH	H
Take risks on untested ideas	D			○	◆
Verbalize the thoughts and feelings of others	i	◆			○
Respond to problems with study and cooperation	S		◆	○
Analyze many factors when making decisions	C			○		◆
Delegate responsibility to others for follow-up actions	D			○	◆
Release tension in the group by interacting verbally	i	◆			○
Assume responsibility to follow-through on details	S		◆	○
Contain oneself when impatient or anxious	C			○		◆
Move forcefully, even if some people are offended	D			○	◆
Resolve conflict by initiating and facilitating discussion	i	◆			○
Consider the views of those who show disagreement	S		◆	○
Remain neutral when conflict first arises	C			○		◆
Demand immediate results	D			○	◆
Verbally encourage others in their personal efforts	i	◆			○
Develop a workable, repeatable routine	S		◆	○
Carefully weigh alternative methods, actions	C			○		◆

Role Behavior™ Comparison Grid

Single PPS/RBA Comparison

◆ Wesley Cref

○ Managing Others/Supervisor/Consensus

		L	ML	M	MH	H
Take higher risks based on potential results	D			○	◆
Influence people through optimistic communication	i	◆			○
Maintain methods proven effective in the past	S		◆	○
Listen with reservation to the opinions of others	C			○		◆
Respond quickly to problems	D			○	◆
Influence or inspire others verbally	i	◆			○
Change through careful and orderly planning process	S		◆	○
Check accuracy of work, especially their own	C			○		◆
Use power and authority to accomplish results	D			○	◆
Use personal charm and enthusiasm	i	◆			○
Follow a methodical way of doing things	S		◆	○
Carefully follow key procedures and processes	C			○		◆
Direct the efforts of others	D			○	◆
Facilitate interaction between people	i	◆			○
Cooperate with others to complete tasks	S		◆	○
Demonstrate self-discipline by working alone	C			○		◆

Performance Coaching Questions

The performance coaching questions listed in this section may be helpful in determining Wesley's actual experience in stretching and redirecting his behavior to meet the requirements of the role. These questions are based on the potential fit defined by Wesley's responses to the Personal Profile System® and the results of the Role Behavior Analysis™ for the role of Managing Others.

Requiring STRETCH

- How would you handle a job situation where you were required to verbalize the thoughts and feeling of others more often than was comfortable for you?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position required you to reduce tension in the group by interacting verbally more often than you found comfortable?
- How would you handle a job situation where the position required you to resolve conflict by initiating and facilitating discussion more often than you found comfortable?
- How would you handle a job situation where the position required you to verbally encourage others in their personal efforts more often than you felt comfortable doing?
- How would you handle a job situation where the position required you to influence others through positive communication more often than you felt comfortable?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position required you to influence or inspire others verbally more of the time than was comfortable for you?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position required you to use personal charm and enthusiasm more of the time than was comfortable for you?
- How would you handle a job situation that required you to facilitate interaction between people more often than was comfortable for you?

Requiring REDIRECT

- How would you handle a job situation where you had less of an opportunity to take risks on untested ideas than you may have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you had less opportunity to delegate responsibility than you may have wished?
- How would you handle a job situation where your preference would have been to move forcefully even though others may have been offended more often than was expected in your position?
- How would you handle a job situation where you would have liked to demand immediate results from others more often than may have been expected in the position?
- How would you handle a job situation that provided you with less opportunity to take higher risks based on potential results than you may have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position provided you less opportunity to respond quickly to problems than you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you were not able to use power and authority to get results as much as you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you were not able to direct the efforts of others as much as you would have liked?

Performance Coaching Questions

The performance coaching questions listed in this section may be helpful in determining Wesley's actual experience in stretching and redirecting his behavior to meet the requirements of the role. These questions are based on the potential fit defined by Wesley's responses to the Personal Profile System® and the results of the Role Behavior Analysis™ for the role of Managing Others.

Requiring REDIRECT (Continued)

- How would you handle a job situation where your position did not allow you to analyze many factors when making decisions as much of the time as you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you would have preferred to contain yourself when you were feeling anxious or impatient more often than the position allowed?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position did not allow you to remain neutral when conflict first arose as much of the time as you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where your position did not allow you to carefully weigh alternative methods and actions as much as you might have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you would have preferred to listen with reservation to the opinions of others more often than the position allowed?
- How would you handle a job situation where the position did not allow you to check the accuracy of the work, especially your own, as much of the time as you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where the position did not allow you to carefully follow key procedures and processes as much of the time as you would have liked?
- How would you handle a job situation where you would have preferred to demonstrate self-discipline in working alone more often than the position permitted?